Six Words Fresh Off the Boat: Stories of Immigration, Identity, and Coming to America Edited by Larry Smith

Marrying the acclaimed immigration-themed ABC Television Network series Fresh Off the Boat with the New York Times bestselling Six-Word Memoir series by Larry Smith, Kingswell Press is thrilled to publish Six Words Fresh Off the Boat: Stories of Immigration, Identity, and Coming to America (on sale: September 5, 2017).

This timely and unique crowd-sourced book of immigration stories — each told in six words — captures hundreds of memoirs on the experience from across America, spanning cultures and generations, to paint a powerful portrait of who we are as a country, and where we came from.

Contributors include refugees ("Refugee went from burkas to bachelors," "Boat person finds freedom in America"); students ("I only speak Spanish on weekends," "Hoping my school lunch doesn't 'smell'"); armed forces personnel ("Salvadoran immigrant raises US Navy diver," "Retired Marine, looked upon as outsider"); an astronaut ("From migrant farmworker to NASA astronaut"); an Olympiad ("Albanian Olympiad flees for America: reborn"); and a Teen Jeopardy winner ("Land of opportunity lets me learn").

The book also includes coming-to-America stories from a number of notable actors, authors, athletes, artists, entrepreneurs, and political figures, among them:

M. Night Shyamalan: "My accent has become my voice."
Aziz Ansari: "Every immigrant's journey is truly incredible."
Arianna Huffington: "Another Greek Odyssey, thriving in America."
Mario Batali: "Joyous polyglot, cooked with the world."
Jeremy Lin: "Abandoned the piano for a basketball."
Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie: "Nobody is ever just a refugee."
Dr. Sanjay Gupta: "Indian mother: Ford's first female engineer."
Junot Díaz: "We immigrants are America's true superpower."
Narciso Rodriguez: "Immigrant son proudly dresses First Lady."
George Takei: "Even after internment, still love America."
Madeleine Albright: "In 1948, I was a refugee."

The book also includes six words from the cast and creative team of Fresh Off the Boat, many of whom are immigrants or the children of immigrants, as well as several longer essays that expand on a six-word story, providing first-person accounts, both joyful and harrowing, of coming to America.

About Fresh Off the Boat

Set in the '90s, hip-hop loving teenager Eddie Huang and his family have lived in Orlando for a few years now and are assimilating nicely into the suburban American lifestyle. Cultural differences still present everyday challenges, but close friends, neighbors, and business partners are there to help them navigate the complexities of raising a family of future Millenials. Inspired by a true story, Fresh Off the Boat stars Randall Park as Louis, Constance Wu as Jessica, Hudson Yang as Eddie, Forrest Wheeler as Emery, Ian Chen as Evan, Lucille Soong as Grandma Huang, Chelsey Crisp as Honey, and Ray Wise and Marvin. Fresh Off the Boat was written by Nahnatchka Khan, who also serves as executive producer. Jake Kasdan and Melvin Mar are executive producers.

The fourth season of Fresh Off the Boat will premiere at a new time on Tuesday, October 3 (8:30-9:00 p.m. EDT) on the ABC Television Network, and is produced 20th Century Fox Television.
